John L. Lewis saves his face, the in the bituminous field, as the op-holding an empty bag from which they have poured not less than $50,000,000 of excess profits into the pockets of the coal men all

SENATE PASSES TAX MEASURE BY 58-9; CUT IS $456,000,000

Changes in Committee of Whole Accepted in Night Session.

SIMMONS RESENTS
TAUNTING BY REED

Coolidge Hopes Conference Will Arrange Bill as Proposed by Treasury.

By ALBERT W. FOX.
The Senate passed the tax bill, carrying reductions of $456,000,000, at 11 o'clock last night. The vote was 58 to 9.

The nine senators who stood to the end against the bill were Frazier, La Follette, McMaster, Nor-beck, Norris, Nye, Reed of Missouri, Wheeler and Shipstead. Four senators—Bleasie, Brookhart, Howell and Johnson—were paired against the bill, bringing the agreement strength of the opposition up to thirteen.

Senator Couzens, who led the fight against the bill in nearly all of its major provisions, voted for it when the final test came. Senator Walsh, of Montana, left the chamber before the vote.

Democrats in Quarrel.
The last stand of the opposition was made in connection with Senator Norris' amendment to raise the surplus to 25 per cent on incomes over $1,000,000. This was beaten after one of the bitterest quarrels in recent years, with Senator Reed, of Missouri, mercilessly taunting the Democrats and Senator Simmons defending them. The vote was 44 to 22 and it was realized that the battle was over.

Galleries were well filled and senators had been rounded up from their social engagements, two of them, Lenroot and George, appearing in evening dress.

Just before the final vote, Senator Norris read a short, scathing denunciation of the bill.

After the final vote Vice President Dawes appointed Senators Smoot, McLean and Reed of Pennsylvania, Republicans, and Senators Simmons and Gerry to act as conferees with the conferees of the House.

Coolidge Expects Restorations.
President Coolidge let it be known at the White House yesterday afternoon that he expects the conference between the Senate and the House to restore some of the $104,000,000 loss of revenue involved in the bill as it passed the Senate. The President, it was added, wants to make as great a reduction as the government can make,
but he does not want to jeopardize the balancing of the budget. It was further pointed out at the White House that there are pending a good many suggestions to increase government expenditures which depend upon the final amount of loss of revenue involved in the tax bill.

It was hoped at the White House and at the Treasury Department that the reductions might be changed when the bill went into the Senate from committee of the whole. But this proved a forlorn hope.

The bill went unexpectedly into the Senate from committee of the whole at 8:10 p. m. There were

Gordon to Be Renamed U. S. District Attorney

Official announcement was made at the White House yesterday that President Coolidge expects formally to reappoint Maj. Peyton C. Gordon as United States district attor-

within the next few days.

It was stated that the appointment has been deferred because there were certain matters which the executive was anxious should be cleared up before Maj. Gordon's name was sent to the Senate.

BRIAND IS SURPRISED BY CONFIDENCE VOTE

Count of 327 to 182 Is More Than French Premier Had Looked For.

FIRST VICTORY IN ROW

Paris, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—For the first time in the long drawn-out discussions on the financial rehabilitation measures, Premier Briand asked and received a vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies today. The vote was 327 to 182, a greater majority than the premier had looked for.

M. Briand had demanded that the measure providing that the state should become equal heir with children in direct line inheritance be reserved for later consideration, and before the vote was taken he emphasized that he would consider the result as a show of confidence or nonconfidence in the government. The shifting majority of the chamber went toward the right and supported the premier's demand, but the socialists and communists voted against him.

This, the first signal victory of the government in the financial debate, however, loses a certain amount of its significance because of the fact that it was due to a rupture in the ranks of the left bloc. The vote is taken as indication that M. Briand can count upon the radicals and moderates only to put through the financial measures.

In the course of the debate, Premier Briand made it clear that prompt action on the financial bills was necessary and he impressed it upon the chamber that it was face to face with the responsibility of providing the necessary means to enable the treasury to meet the pressing situation.

Beauty Parlors Must Be Closed on Sunday

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 12 (By A. P.).
The women and girls of Lynn are pretty enough to get through Sunday without treatments at beauty parlors, in the opinion of Mayor Ralph S. Bauer. The mayor ordered the police today to keep watch over the city's beauty parlors to see that they refrain from operating on Sunday.

He contends that six days of labor with lipstick, powder puff, scissors and rouge should, in a general way, make any woman attractive enough to carry her over the seventh without further treatment.

Slayer's Face Made Over; Fingerprints Betray Him

Young Man Who Killed Girl in New York Says He Spent $1,000 Changing Features—Will Welcome Death After Long Pursuit.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 12 (By A. P.).
Although Luke O'Neill, 25, alias Edgar Vance, spent $1,000 for facial operations to disguise himself after murdering Catherine Gore in New York city last September, he neglected to alter his fingerprints. He was arrested here last week in an automobile stolen in St.
Louis, and following comparison of his fingerprints with those in a New York police bulletin, confessed the murder.

In his signed confession, O'Neill stated that he had $6,000 at the time the crime was committed.
He fled to Chicago where he placed himself in the hands of a plastic surgeon, who made over his nose and raised other portions of his face to change its contour. Slight scars, on close scrutiny, were found beneath his eyes where incisions were made by the surgeon.

"I've been through hell since I killed that girl," he was quoted.
"It's the chair for me, I know, but I'll welcome it. I've stood all a man can stand."

ALL BRIDGES IN CITY WILL BE EXAMINED BY ORDER OF BELL

Cost of More Barriers to Protect Motorists to Be Studied.

RAILINGS HELD NEVER SUFFICIENTLY SAFE

Mrs. Standish's Death Called Accidental by Jury—Miss Collins May Recover.

Lieut. Col. J. Franklin Bell, engineer commissioner, yesterday ordered an examination made of all bridges in the District to see whether, at reasonable cost, additional barriers, adjoining the curbs and higher than the latter, can be installed to protect motorists from danger of their cars leaping from the structures. This followed Thursday's fatal accident on the Calvert street bridge.

He and other District officials decided the placing of emphasis on strength of railings. There are for safeguarding of pedestrians, they said, and not automobiles. It is difficult to construct railings that will hold cars traveling at faster than moderate speeds, they pointed out, citing the recent case of a car knocking out a section of the heavy concrete balustrade of the Connecticut avenue bridge. Col.
Bell said:

"The railings of bridges will not stop motor vehicles going at considerable speed. Vehicles are supposed to be stopped by the curb.
The curb of Calvert street bridge was raised six inches two or three years ago, making it about eleven and a half inches high, which is about as high as it can be without danger of interference with hubs of automobiles, which interference would cause, rather than prevent, accidents."

Higher Curb Impracticable.
"A second and higher curb, back of the first, one would add something to protection, but our sidewalks are not designed to support such structures, and if properly braced, they would occupy considerable portion of the walks."

"Nevertheless, I am having an inspection made of the Calvert

Boy, 9, Seriously Hurt When Sled Hits Auto

Nine-year-old John Chaney, 57
T street northeast, was injured, probably fatally, last night while sledding on a hill at Lincoln road and T street northeast. He crashed into an automobile, demolishing his sled and throwing him against the car.

Thomas P. Smith, driver of the automobile, 125 Sixteenth street southeast, picked up the unconscious boy and rushed with him to Sibley hospital. There it was found the boy had suffered a possible fracture of the skull, minor cuts and bruises. Smith communicated with police and was taken to the Twelfth precinct station, where he was held pending outcome of the boy's injuries.

were the local victims. They had

MEXICANS PROMISE SPEEDY VENGEANCE FOR GIRLS' DEATHS

Immediate Trial, Possibly Today, of 7 Held in Tia Juana Jail.

INQUEST LAYS PETEET
SUICIDES TO GRIEF

Family's Trip to Mexico Due to Homesickness; Given Drugs in Drinks.

Special to The Washington Post.
San Diego, Calif., Feb. 12.—
"Mexican justice" neared tonight for the men in the Tia Juana jail, accused as defilers of the Peteet family honor.

Word from across the border today, following the coroner's inquest under American law here this morning, was that information against the seven men now under guard of Mexican federal soldiers, will be filed in federal courts at Tia Juana tomorrow. Immediate trial and possibly summary executions may follow.

The Mexican "informations," written by high officials of the southern republic, like the official verdict of the American coroner's jury, are understood to charge the accused seven led by Zeno Llanos, deposed chief of police of Tia Juana, and Luis Amador, barroom proprietor and fugitive from American justice, with attacking the two Peteet girls, Clyde, 26, and Audrey, 19.

Because of the treatment of the daughters, according to the verdict of the San Diego coroner's jury of ten men and two women, the Peteet family wiped itself out here last Saturday in a quadruple suicide pact by inhaling gas in an ecstasy of "grief and remorse."

Mexican Doctors Attend.
The proceedings of the inquest and the signed verdict were officially observed on behalf of Gov.
Alberto Rodriguez of Lower California. Four Mexican physicians, as his representatives, asked permission of the American coroner to make post-mortems on the bodies of the dead women.

This afternoon a statement by Antonio Martinez, secretary of state for Lower California, stated:
"When the presentations of the formal charges are made the extreme penalty of the Mexican law will be demanded. The charges will be placed before the Mexican courts by Plutarco Calles, deputy attorney general of the republic of Mexico."

Identical verdicts were returned by the American coroner's inquest covering the deaths of 55-year-old Thomas Peteet, and his 59-year-old wife, Carrie. Separate verdicts were returned for Clyde and Audrey, stipulating the persons held responsible for the attacking of each. Llanos was specifically charged in the case of the older American girl. Amador was charged with culpability for the events leading to Audrey's death.

The previous chaste lives of the American girls accentuated the family's horror at the Tia Juana outrages, according to part of the medical testimony.

Testimony of neighbors and ac-

END OF HARD COAL STRIKE ON 5-YEAR BASIS, OLD PAY, CALLED VICTORY BY UNION

The Strike and Its Settlement

What the miners asked:
Ten per cent wage increase for contract men, $1 a day additional for labor, the check-off system and improved living conditions.

What the miners got:
A wage contract that holds good for five years at the old rates—
no increase—but with the provision that any subsequent changes may be made by agreement.

A modified application of the check-off system under which the companies practically recognize the closed shop idea and will permit collection of union dues at the pay window.

An express agreement that only mutual agreements shall change wage schedules.

Acceptance of the principle of collective bargaining between representatives of the operators and the miners.
Strike started September 1, 1925.
Duration of strike, 169 days.
Men involved, 158,000.
Loss in wages, $170,000,000.
Loss in coal production, 30,000,000 tons.

Forced Labor Arbitration Still Opposed by Coolidge

President, Pleased Coal Strike Is Settled, Takes Labor's View in Discussions at White House—Watching Transport Legislation.

By JOHN EDWIN KEVIN.

Despite the troubles which have resulted from the coal strike, now virtually settled, President Coolidge remains unalterably opposed to any system of compulsory arbitration in the major industries of the country. In this connection the opposition of organized labor to compulsory arbitration to settle strikes has the complete sympathy of the President.

Discussing this subject yesterday afternoon the White House spokesman pointed out that arbitration is always dependent on the acceptance of the principle by both parties to a dispute. Where they agree, of course, success is assured. Where either side opposes then there is no opportunity of it.

Incidentally, while the President expressed himself as gratified by the settlement of the coal strike it was emphasized in his behalf that the settlement in every way was worked out without his intervention. From the time that the dispute was precipitated the attitude of the administration remained unchanged. He contended that this was a matter between the parties in dispute and that there was nothing the government could do in this connection.

Just what part the Secretary of Labor had in the settlement was not gone into by the White House spokesman. He said that, of course, from the time the dispute became acute the Department of Labor, under its regulations, has watched all developments. Representatives of the department have kept Secretary Davis informed day by day of the situation.

It was developed that the President was watching very carefully the legislation now in Congress which is designed to prevent any possible tie-up in the transportation industry of the country in the future. The suggestions in that legislation has the complete approval of the President, and he is understood to oppose changes suggested by the National Association of Manufacturers.

In the opinion of the President,
it is understood, the railroad agreement goes directly to the root of the difficulty in settling labor troubles in that it takes as its first step the bringing together of the parties directly concerned. In other words the system plan, which provides that the representatives of the men and the employers, on each road affected shall get together when a dispute arises and try to work out a plan of settlement, is,
in the viewpoint of the President, not only the most desirable, but provides the best medium for success. The representatives are intuitively connected and usually are in a frame of mind which makes for a successful termination of the negotiations.

Then the successive steps, which provide for the effort at mediation on the scene and then, through a Federal mediation board, and, should they fail, for the reference of the whole matters in dispute to a fact-finding commission, are believed by the executive to furnish an almost infallible plan of avoiding labor disputes.

This is a coupling up of mutual endeavor and mediation which is understood to appeal strongly to the President. Despite the opposition of the National Association of Manufacturers, the railroad bill, which also abolishes the railway labor

Until He Serves One Year at Sea.

Just how extensively enlisted men can be used as pilots of airplanes is to be determined by the navy through a year's experiment with a squadron of naval fighting planes manned exclusively by selected enlisted men but commanded by three experienced commissioned officers.

This course is to be followed along with other recommendations of the Taylor board, which for several months investigated into the problems of the navy's aviation personnel. It specifically sought to recommend a policy on the proportion of officer aviators to enlisted aviators and a system of detail to duty by which officers specializing in aeronautics could fit themselves for high naval commands.

Major Recommendations.

Among its major recommendations were these:

For the present let the apportionment of enlisted aviators pilots depend upon the number of aircraft in operation.

Man one naval fighting plane squadron entirely with selected enlisted men with three experienced commissioned officers to command. After a year of this experiment, consider the results obtained as a basis for the future apportionment of enlisted men to operating squadrons.

Select no naval aviator for promotion to the grade of commander until he has served at least one year on board a cruising ship as the head of a department, or as an executive or commanding officer.

Before such an officer holds command, require him to have at least six months' duty in navigation if his duty as head of a department, has been in gunnery, engineering or as first lieutenant.

Detail young aviators aboard training ships, in addition to their duties, to duty as junior officer under deck and division officers, so that they will assimilate the requirements for naval command.

That captains, selected for training as naval aviators, should be required to insure that fleet air forces, carriers, aircraft tenders and other major aviation organizations will be commanded by naval aviators, with a safety pilot, however, in the plane, when required.

Flight Tests for Ensigns.

That ensigns after graduation and completion of the Annapolis ground school aviation work and upon assignment to ships should be sent to San Diego and Hampton Roads for flight elimination tests in large numbers as possible.

The report of the board also provides for the transfer of some of the construction corps of the rank of lieutenant or below to line duties and above the rank of lieutenant to the line for engineering duties only as extra numbers, for the retention of aviators for other and particular work when physically disqualified for piloting; the extension of facilities for officers to learn of the capabilities and limitations of aircraft; that the Navy Department's policy should be as officers become qualified, to have all air organizations commanded by naval aviators qualified in both line and aviation, and that details of squadron organization of aircraft in relation to the fleet be further developed by the commander in chief rather than by the bureaus of the Navy Department.

street bridge and all other bridges, to see if, within the means of the District, such barriers can be added. "The P street and Chain bridges are even older than the Calvert street bridge of the Highway bridge needs replacing. I have been trying to get these repairs made for some time."

Director of Traffic Eldridge said the automobile that went off the Calvert street bridge Thursday evening had only one skid chain, and that it was worse to place one chain on a car than none at all. There should be two chains, one on each rear wheel, when pavements are slippery.

The committee on bridges, Washington Board of Trade, will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to investigate the general condition of the Calvert street bridge over Rock Creek valley, scene of a fatal accident Thursday and three last June, and recommend District action, if it is found unsafe.

SENATE PASSES TAX MEASURE 58 TO 9; CUT IS $456,000,000

A separate vote in the Senate confirmed the repeal of the inheritance or estate tax by a vote of 40 to 22. Then, by a vote of 58 to 9, the Senate affirmed the repeal of admission and amusement taxes. The Norris surtax amendment was taken up at 8:35 and this started debate, with Reed, of Missouri, taking the lead in supporting it. The amendment provides a surtax of 25 per cent on incomes over $1,000,000, with a graduated scale of surtax increase from 20 per cent on $100,000 to 25 per cent on $1,000,000.

Senator Reed was in his usual form and taunted the Democrats for what he termed their surrender. "We are giving Mr. Mellon his way," he said. "We are giving Mr. Mellon everything he demanded and 5 per cent better. And we did not go down fighting. The poor old Democratic mule is being led by the ear and Mr. Mellon's hand holds the car."

"Mellon Won't Fight," Reed Says. "I've got to go back to my people," Senator Reed concluded, "and say 'Mellon's right.' The right is a case where we cut the Mellon; it's a case where the Mellon cut us."

Senator Simmons, the minority ranking member on the finance committee, made a vigorous defense of the part the Democrats played in framing the bill. He rejected the idea that the Democrats should have combined with the Republicans to pass the bill. "These venomous attacks upon me personally and upon the Democratic party do not alarm me," he said, turning to Senator Reed, of Missouri. "Public sentiment, I am confident, stands behind the Democratic party in this matter."

Senator Simmons became so enthusiastic in his support of the bill and claimed so much credit for the Democrats that Senator Moises, after Mr. Simmons had concluded, said: "Without wishing to detract from the rhapsody of the senator from North Carolina, I want to say that the credit for this bill will go to Calvin Coolidge and Andrew W. Mellon."

"Well, the Republicans will steal the credit, as they did in the last bill," Senator Simmons replied.

The Senate yesterday afternoon showed a disposition to stay off further reductions. An effort to raise the earned income exemption from $20,000 incomes to $50,000 incomes was snuffed under. This amendment, if adopted, would have cost the Treasury $25,000,000.

An amendment by Senator Harrison to abolish the stamp tax on capital stock issues, which would have cost the Treasury $10,000,000, was beaten by the narrow margin of 31 to 22.

A feature of the late afternoon was a joint drive by Senators Reed, of Missouri, and Walsh, of Montana, to give earned incomes up to $50,000 a 25 per cent exemption. Under the bill this exemption applies to incomes up to $20,000. The amendment offered by Senator Reed was called the "lawyers and doctors' amendment," because it was the chief beneficiaries, though the amendment would have applied to professional men or those who earn

HOUSE BODY WANTS CONGRESS TO VALUE TRANSIT LINES HERE

New Scrutiny.

PRESENT STATEMENTS CALLED EXAGGERATED

Hammer Says Discrepancies Show That "Something Is Wrong" in Figures.

Revaluation of the local traction companies under congressional scrutiny is to be proposed as the outgrowth of the inquiry conducted by the House District committee, it was learned yesterday.

Members of the House committee not only have discussed the advisability of the revaluation among themselves but have conferred with members of the Senate District committee.

Representative Hammer, of North Carolina, member of the House committee, declared that a revaluation of the property of both the Capital Traction Co. and the Washington Railway & Electric Co. seemed to be essential. Under the present valuations, which the courts have fixed in collateral decisions, Mr. Hammer said both companies could go into the courts and get much larger fares. This view also has been expressed by the public utilities commission, coupled with the opinion that the companies are not likely to seek higher fares, however, because of the loss of patronage.

Says Something Is Wrong.

This state of affairs indicates that there is something wrong somewhere, said Mr. Hammer. The fares of the Capital Traction Co., for example, are based on a fair return on a $17,000,000 valuation. This is the figure placed by the utilities commission, and the return on this valuation is only about 6 per cent. The courts have indicated, however, that they would sustain a valuation of $31,000,000.

The committee inquiry has turned largely, so far, on the question of whether the public utilities commission has been sufficiently diligent in checking the property items making up the valuation statement. Maj. W. E. R. Covell, assistant to Engineer Commissioner Bell, has insisted that while the commission has necessarily been handicapped through lack of funds to make an adequate survey of the companies' properties and to check expenditures as it should, it has maintained a good scrutiny on valuation statements.

Mr. Hammer said that while the commission had no doubt done the best it could, he was content that the valuation statements were greatly exaggerated.

He conferred with Senator Capper, chairman of the Senate District committee, on the subject of providing for a thorough survey to determine a new valuation. The senator agreed that "something should be done."

In this connection and anticipating action by the committee, it was understood the utilities commission has communicated with various firms qualified to undertake the work.

Just what form the new valuation would take has not been determined. Those members who have the subject uppermost in mind, however, feel that Congress should have the supervision of it, at least indirectly. It may be that the work will be tied up with legislation creating a reorganized public utilities commission, which the House committee has virtually agreed to be a necessity.

Under Arrest.

Three pupils of the Johnson school, ranging in age from 12 to 14 years, are being held at the house of detention, each charged with six cases of housebreaking. The boys are said to have confessed breaching into a church and five stores in the Mount Pleasant section. Their arrests ended a quest by police for a gang of men who were suspected of the robberies.

The boys, George P. Bailey, 14 years old, and his brother John, 12 years old, 1231 Irving street northwest, and Loren R. Johnson, 13 years old, 2924 Fourteenth street northwest, police say, confessed to using a rope and broomstick in lieu of burly tools, and relied on automobile tops in gaining entrance to the rear of windows and skylights of the stores.

According to Lieut. John M. Walsh, who led the police investigators, the boys confessed to breaking into and stripping the Christmas tree in the Mount Pleasant Lutheran church during the Christmas holiday, and breaking into the following stores, all in the northwest section: Walsh Bros' Hardware Co., 3430 Fourteenth street; Sproul & Co., 3213 Fourteenth street; Sullivan Coal Co., 3129 Fourteenth street; Clara B. Wilcox Co., 3112 Eleventh street, and the Ulrich Novelty store, on upper Fourteenth street.

Hitch Over Parley With Mexico Denied

It was made plain at the White House yesterday that there has been no very serious hitch in negotiations in progress between this country and Mexico designed to obtaining from the Mexican government an interpretation on the land and air laws which will protect treaty rights to Americans there.

The White House spokesman said that negotiations are proceeding quietly, but that there has been neither untoward delay or any hitch which would, at this time, seem to threaten a favorable agreement.

STILLMANS GREET MARRIED DAUGHTER AT PARIS STATION

Told of Parents' Reconciliation
by Cable, Says Mrs.
H. P. Davison.

REUNITED COUPLE ARE
"DEAR" AND "JIMMY"

"I Am a New Woman to Him," Says Mrs. Stillman; Will Stay 3 Weeks in City.

Paris, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman, in Paris only a few hours after their reconciliation honeymoon voyage, from the United States, met their daughter, Mrs. Henry P. Davison, at the Lyons station tonight.

Mrs. Davison, who landed at Marseilles today on her return from India, lost no time in making her way to Paris to see her father and mother. She said that she was "very happy" over their reconciliation, but expressed surprise when asked whether she had brought it about.

"No, that's the first I have heard of that rumor," she asserted. "As a matter of fact, I first knew of it by cable from my mother and father."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stillman embraced their daughter cordially after eagerly hunting her halfway down the length of the train platform. Mrs. Davison was in the company of the Roosevelt party, with whom she journeyed from India.

Mrs. Stillman chatted for a few minutes with Theodore Roosevelt.

calling him "Ted." Then the Stillman party, mother, father and daughter, drove off together in their automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillman have no plans more definite than that they expect to stay three weeks in Paris and to travel indefinitely in Europe. On their arrival at Cherbourg on the Olympic early today Mrs. Stillman declared they were "perfectly reconciled."

"I am a new woman to him now," she continued; "he has not seen me for almost five years."

The Stillmans went ashore at Cherbourg impassively. All eyes followed them down the gangplank, all peeks in the vicinity were craned and most of the elbows in the gathering were used for nudging. The couple appeared isolated amid the jostling crowd and seemed to feel thrown upon one another for mutual strength after their five years of bitter struggle.

Once or twice they smiled at each other and spoke in low tones, she addressing him as "Jimmy," and he frequently calling her "Dear."

"Is everything all right now?" was the first question put to Mrs. Stillman when correspondents were admitted to her suite on the Olympic.

"Why certainly!" she replied. "I ought to know my own mind by now—I think I always have. We are perfectly reconciled. If you want to call it that."

The Stillmans were silent on the reasons for the reconciliation, politely, but firmly refusing to discuss the matter.

On the Paris boat-train they had a compartment to themselves, he sitting next to the window and she next to the corridor, with a vacant seat between filled with newspapers and books. They invited the Associated Press correspondent into their compartment on their journey to Paris and asked many questions about changes there. They commented on the landscape, discussed fashions and theories, and joked with the correspondent about their past experiences.

In the dining car they had lunch at a table curtained off from the rest of the diners and conversed with much animation and some laughter. Mrs. Stillman several times pounded the table to emphasize a point. Arriving at the St. Lazare station, they went immediately to their hotel.

Psychologists apparently played little part in Mr. Stillman's thoughts in spite of the reports that he was to consult European specialists in this field. The only book he took with him was a copy of Rider Haggard's romances, which he carried under his arm with his wife's handbag and some newspapers. He waved aside all direct questions about his reported studies in the psychic field, but worked the remark, "I feel as though I were back in my college days, with all this talk about psychoanalysis."

REPUBLICANS' FOES WITHOUT AN ISSUE, NEW SAYS IN SOUTH

Postmaster General Advises
Louisville Club to Let Well-Enough Alone.

CONFIDENCE OF NATION
SEEN HELD BY COOLIDGE

Tax, Budget, Court, Tariff and Farm Aid Action Cited to Show Progress.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—Postmaster General New reviewed the record of President Coolidge and the Republican Congress here tonight and advised the country to follow the slogan of Mark Hanna and "let well enough alone."

"When well-enough is the best for which any one could wish," said the Postmaster General, "why not accept it? Why not perpetuate it by selecting the men and the party under whose administration these conditions have been brought about?"

Mr. New's address was delivered before the Lincoln club of Kentucky. After a eulogy of Abraham Lincoln he sketched the country's expansion since the civil war and declared that "under this Republican administration of Calvin Coolidge we are at the high point of our prosperity."

The Democrats, Wilson he said, had been searching vainly for an issue for the approaching campaign.

Unassailable As a Man.

"What is to be the Democratic issue?" he continued. "Are they to assail Coolidge? As a man and individual his life has been unassailable."

"I undertake to say that no President that has ever occupied the White House has enjoyed the confidence of the whole American public to the same degree as has Calvin Coolidge."

Even Washington, Lincoln, Grant, Cleveland, Wilson had their enemies and their detractors within their own parties. Nowhere is there a voice raised against Coolidge.

"Is it to be the world court? All but two of the Democrats who voted at all voted for it."

"Is it to be the tax law? The public has not only approved all that in advance, but has clamored for it and has served notice on the Democratic minority that it will brook no trifling with it."

Tariff Record Is Cited.

Is it to be the tariff? We hear intimations to that effect. One would think that the record of Democratic tinkering with the tariff at more than one period of the past would have convinced even them that this is not their forte. It is just plain fact that this country has prospered under a protective tariff and has invariably languished under a tariff for revenue only.

Replying to Democratic attacks on the Republican administration's economy record, the Postmaster General said it was true that the number of government employees has increased since President Coolidge took office, but that "it is the growing and prosperous concern that calls for the employment of more men, and not the falling one."

He cited the increase in the volume of mail handled as an evidence of the brand of prosperity which requires an expanding governmental personnel.

Enumerating what he termed "a small part of the legislative congressional accomplishments under the Republican administration" since the extra session convened in April, 1921, the Postmaster General headed the list with the Senate action in concluding 55 treaties and international agreements, all of which, he said, look to "the furtherance of peace and amity."

Budget Bureau Praised.

Other acts he pointed to were the budget law, creating the budget bureau and arming it with authority to do what has been accomplished through its aid.

"We passed a tax measure," he continued, "reducing the burden of Federal taxes by a billion dollars a year, which was later added another that lopped off another half billion, and we are now engaged in."

enacting and have about concluded the passage of a third."

Further legislation he recalled in the following order:

Revision of the war finance corporation to increase its power to make loans to farm and live stock interests, and providing it with a billion-dollar revolving fund for their benefit.

Creation of the veterans' bureau, appropriating over a billion dollars for its use.

Revision of Highway Act.

Revision of the Federal highway act, appropriating $75,000,000 for roads.

Regulation of trading in grain futures.

The seed loan act to relieve farmers in drought-stricken areas of the West.

The "immigration act restricting immigrants; the farmers' emergency tariff; reduction of the regular army to 125,000 men and the navy to 135,000; increase of available funds for the Federal Farm Loan Bank of $25,000,000 and amendment of the law regulating the sale of Federal Farm Loan Bank bonds so as to facilitate their marketing."

The Fordney-McCumber tariff act; legalization of cooperative marketing associations; the rural credits act; ratification of seven treaties formulated at the Washington conference for the limitation of armament; the soldier bonus act; the law reorganizing the diplomatic corps; and the creation of the inland waterways commission.

On the Paris boat-train they had a compartment to themselves, he sitting next to the window and she next to the corridor, with a vacant seat between filled with newspapers and books. They invited the Associated Press correspondent into their compartment on their journey to Paris and asked many questions about changes there. They commented on the landscape, discussed fashions and theories, and joked with the correspondent about their past experiences.

REBUILDING LEAGUE IS HELD INEVITABLE; 2 PROBLEMS ARISE

Demands for the Permanent
Seats in Council Cause
Apprehension.

NEUTRALS IN LATE WAR
SEEK MORE INFLUENCE

Position Held Open for U. S.
Is Requested by South
American Nations.

Geneva, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—There came to Geneva today two new political developments considered of great importance to the future of the League of Nations, the reconstruction of which now appears to be inevitable.

First was the demand of Spain to have the voice of the nations who remained neutral in the great war permanently heard in the deliberations of the league council.

Second was the insistence of Brazil that until the time when the United States may decide to claim the permanent seat that is waiting for her in the council some country of the American continents should definitely occupy it.

Francisco, the Brazilian representative in the council, told the Associated Press tonight that his country would be proud to fill America's place and that Brazil should be considered the logical candidate to hold such a position.

Brought On By Berlin.

It is the entrance of Germany into the League of Nations which has brought on these and is bound to bring other developments in forming the league's structure.

They became known in the lobbies before and after the brief special session of the council which was summoned to arrange the preliminaries for Germany's admission to the league and which fixed March 8 as the date for the convening of an extraordinary assembly for the formal admission of Germany.

As the date selected is that for the opening of the regular March session of the council, this means that Germany during that session will take her place on a footing of complete equality with her former enemies around the council table as a permanent member.

Those who had hopes to confine the election of permanent members to Germany alone met with failure in today's brief council session.

That gathering voted that the extraordinary assembly should consider any proposal made by the council regarding the council's structure.

Spain, Poland and Brazil have come out in the open with demands for permanent seats and others are likely to advance their candidacies later.

Spain Demands Voice.

This desire for permanent places is due to the prevailing conviction that the council will wield a constantly growing influence in the settlement of international affairs. Just as Locarno sought to banish all enmity between the allies and Germany, so at Geneva today was apparent an attempt to put neutrals in the late world conflict on a footing of equality with the belligerents.

Spain maintains that as a great power and a nonbelligerent she is entitled to have a permanent seat in the council during the present critical period of world reconstruction, and that all elements may be represented.

Senor Mello Franco said that the world forgets too often that by the covenant of the league itself the United States is given a permanent seat in the council; that this seat will exist as long as the league exists and that America has only to ratify the covenant to be able to walk into the council chamber and take this seat.

Brazil, as a great American nation, wanted to fill that seat temporarily, he said, but there was another mighty reason why Latin America should have a permanent voice. This, he asserted, was because, while Europe, with 26 members of the league, would have four permanent seats in the council, Latin America, with nineteen members, had none.

Hinges on British View.

"It is true that we have two non-permanent places," he continued, "but the hazards of election may lose us these, and it is conceivable that Latin America would be without any voice whatsoever in the council. Such would be fatal, indeed, to the league, because it would destroy its international character."

The allocation of new permanent seats must have the unanimous support of the present council of ten members and must be ratified by a majority of the states represented in the assembly. Therefore, a period of intense canvassing on this matter is to be expected. The attitude of Britain is the council's chief guessing, for England alone can block everything.

Miss Calles Carnival Queen.

Mexico City, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—The Mexico City carnival, once a feature that drew visitors from many parts of the world, was revived today for the first time in years. Miss Ernestine Elias Calles, daughter of President Calles, was crowned queen of the carnival, to which honor she was elected in a popular contest.

Hayden Medal for W. E. Scott.

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—Prof. W. E. Scott, professor of geology and paleontology at Princeton university, has been notified by the Academy of National Sciences that he will receive the Hayden medal for his distinguished work in his field.

Seven members of the Moore family, including two of his daughters, witnessed the executions. The four negroes held their composure to the end. Yesterday they repudiated previous confessions and smiled broadly when they were photographed.

REBUILDING LEAGUE IS HELD INEVITABLE; 2 PROBLEMS ARISE

Demands for the Permanent
Seats in Council Cause
Apprehension.

NEUTRALS IN LATE WAR
SEEK MORE INFLUENCE

Position Held Open for U. S.
Is Requested by South
American Nations.

Geneva, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—There came to Geneva today two new political developments considered of great importance to the future of the League of Nations, the reconstruction of which now appears to be inevitable.

First was the demand of Spain to have the voice of the nations who remained neutral in the great war permanently heard in the deliberations of the league council.

Second was the insistence of Brazil that until the time when the United States may decide to claim the permanent seat that is waiting for her in the council some country of the American continents should definitely occupy it.

Francisco, the Brazilian representative in the council, told the Associated Press tonight that his country would be proud to fill America's place and that Brazil should be considered the logical candidate to hold such a position.

Brought On By Berlin.

It is the entrance of Germany into the League of Nations which has brought on these and is bound to bring other developments in forming the league's structure.

They became known in the lobbies before and after the brief special session of the council which was summoned to arrange the preliminaries for Germany's admission to the league and which fixed March 8 as the date for the convening of an extraordinary assembly for the formal admission of Germany.

As the date selected is that for the opening of the regular March session of the council, this means that Germany during that session will take her place on a footing of complete equality with her former enemies around the council table as a permanent member.

Those who had hopes to confine the election of permanent members to Germany alone met with failure in today's brief council session.

That gathering voted that the extraordinary assembly should consider any proposal made by the council regarding the council's structure.

Spain, Poland and Brazil have come out in the open with demands for permanent seats and others are likely to advance their candidacies later.

Spain Demands Voice.

This desire for permanent places is due to the prevailing conviction that the council will wield a constantly growing influence in the settlement of international affairs. Just as Locarno sought to banish all enmity between the allies and Germany, so at Geneva today was apparent an attempt to put neutrals in the late world conflict on a footing of equality with the belligerents.

Spain maintains that as a great power and a nonbelligerent she is entitled to have a permanent seat in the council during the present critical period of world reconstruction, and that all elements may be represented.

Senor Mello Franco said that the world forgets too often that by the covenant of the league itself the United States is given a permanent seat in the council; that this seat will exist as long as the league exists and that America has only to ratify the covenant to be able to walk into the council chamber and take this seat.

Brazil, as a great American nation, wanted to fill that seat temporarily, he said, but there was another mighty reason why Latin America should have a permanent voice. This, he asserted, was because, while Europe, with 26 members of the league, would have four permanent seats in the council, Latin America, with nineteen members, had none.

Hinges on British View.

"It is true that we have two non-permanent places," he continued, "but the hazards of election may lose us these, and it is conceivable that Latin America would be without any voice whatsoever in the council. Such would be fatal, indeed, to the league, because it would destroy its international character."

The allocation of new permanent seats must have the unanimous support of the present council of ten members and must be ratified by a majority of the states represented in the assembly. Therefore, a period of intense canvassing on this matter is to be expected. The attitude of Britain is the council's chief guessing, for England alone can block everything.

Miss Calles Carnival Queen.

Mexico City, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—The Mexico City carnival, once a feature that drew visitors from many parts of the world, was revived today for the first time in years. Miss Ernestine Elias Calles, daughter of President Calles, was crowned queen of the carnival, to which honor she was elected in a popular contest.

The cattle were being driven from a ship moored on the waterfront to slaughter houses when they became frightened and scattered.

Police were called and pressed into service all available automobiles for the round-up. The steers finally were driven into Winthrop park, which was made into a temporary stockade. Drivers from slaughter houses later herded the steers to their destination.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY IS COMMEMORATED IN GLOWING TRIBUTE

National Capital Observes the Anniversary With Solemnity and Merriment.

SERVICES, BANQUETS, DANCES ON PROGRAM

Exercises Held at Potomac
Park Memorial; Lejeune Speaks at Dinner.

The National Capital, scene of Abraham Lincoln's glorious rule and tragic end, paid its wholehearted tribute to the martyred President yesterday and last night. In observing the 117th anniversary of his birth.

The Lincoln day celebration ranged from solemn memorial exercises to gala balls and entertainments. In the latter, however, the merriment was always preceded by a period of reverent contemplation of the emancipator's greatness. Outstanding among the events of last night were the grand ball and entertainment at the Washington auditorium under auspices of the veterans' joint committee, the memorial ceremony in the First Congressional church, under auspices of the Department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic; the Lincoln dinner at the Willard hotel, under auspices of the Loyal Legion, and the law-enforcement and law observance dinner at the City club, held for the purpose of revivifying Lincoln's view of the majesty of the law.

Touching Ceremony at Church.
Perhaps the most touching and most picturesque ceremony of all was the one in the First Congressional church. Here gathered the loved survivors of that once mighty army that answered Lincoln's call for volunteers when the Union was threatened. Once again they saluted him and pledged themselves to the ideals for which he stood. The Rev. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, which was the church of Lincoln while he was in the White House, and William Tyler Page, clerk of the House of Representatives, delivered memorial addresses.

"Would to God the lovely tolerance of Abraham Lincoln would come back to us in this day of bigotry and intolerance," Dr. Sizoo said. Mr. Page derided the assaults that are now being made on the Constitution and urged a return to "the constitution of Abraham Lincoln."

Commander Moulton Presides.
Hosea B. Moulton, commander of the Department of the Potomac, presided. Lemuel Warner recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Songs were sung by Mrs. Florence Cookley, and Viola Schipper Kluge, with Miss Nellie M. Sarey accompanying at the organ. Music was provided by a section of the Marine band.

The Lincoln memorial, shimmering in a snow-clad landscape, was the scene of two memorial services yesterday. The Military Order of the Loyal Legion assembled in the memorial at 11 o'clock, and the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War held exercises there at 2 o'clock.

Lejeune Speaks at Dinner.
Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commander of the marine corps, in a eulogy of Abraham Lincoln last night at the forty-fourth Lincoln anniversary dinner of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, held at the Willard hotel, declared that the ideals of justice and liberty as expounded by Lincoln are the crowning points in American democracy. Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of the George Washington university, who also spoke, declared that Lincoln, by his acts and deeds, had carved a place for himself in history second only to Jesus and Napoleon.

4,000 Attend Ball.
Approximately 4,000 persons attended the grand ball and entertainment given at the Washington auditorium under the auspices of the veterans' joint committee. Music was provided by the United States Marine band and the United States Army band.

Thirty-three veterans' organizations had boxes. Col. J. Franklin Bell, engineer commander of the district, was among the large number of prominent persons in attendance. Senators, representatives, diplomats and persons prominent in local civic affairs mingled with former back privates on the huge ballroom.

Exercises under auspices of the National Memorial association in the Metropolitan African Methodist Episcopal church were addressed by Representative Will R. Wood of Indiana, Bishop I. N. Ross and the Rev. Charles Satchell Morris, Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by Mrs. Marie Madge Marshall, Ferdinand D. Lee presided.

The annual celebration of the birthday of Lincoln and Douglass at the Moulton club, was addressed by Lieut. Thomas H. R. Clarke, who analyzed the force and effect of the Cooper Union address of the martyred Lincoln, which, he said, resulted in his election as President of the United States. Neval H. Thomas eulogized Frederick Douglass as an abolitionist and political leader.

Beck Sees U. S. in Peril
BY BRITISH LABOR COUP

Direct-Action Victory Might React Here Against the Ideals of Lincoln.

DEMOCRACY LOSING HOLD

New York, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—Although the great war was fought to "make the world safe for democracy," popular government all over the world now seems to be in more serious danger than at any time since the days of Jefferson, James M. Beck, former solicitor general of the United States, said tonight at the Lincoln day dinner of the National Republican club.

Mr. Beck referred to what he described as the "mighty change" which came over the world's dream of democracy after the world war. He mentioned political changes in Russia, China, Italy, Spain, Greece, Germany and France. England, "the mother of democracies," he said, is trembling at the possible domination of a labor oligarchy. This oligarchy, he asserted, prefers to work its will by "direct action," which the speaker termed an euphemism for chocking the community into submission by a threat of starvation.

"No present fact is more significant than the reaction in many nations against democracy and in favor of one-man power," he said. "It matters not whether the one man be called a czar, emperor, king or dictator—the essential fact is his power. Today half of the oldest nations in Europe are in the grasp of dictators. The revolt is not against democracy as a social ideal but against the inefficiency and venality of parliamentary institutions."

Let no one in this country be blind to the fact that a successful revolution in England through this power of direct action might have a significant repercussion in this country, and might destroy the government of the people, by the people, and for the people of which Lincoln spoke."

Mr. Beck declared that at no time have Lincoln's ideals concerning government been more openly denied and flouted.

Speaker Assails "Gossip"
About Nation's Great Men

In the flood of tributes to Abraham Lincoln yesterday was a rebuttal for Rupert Hughes who recently assailed the personal traits of Washington.

Students and alumni of Columbia University school were warned to "be on the lookout for such fellows as Rupert Hughes," by John S. White, local attorney, pausing in the midst of a Lincoln panegyric to reflect upon the evils caused to ideals when thought stoops to taking note of the meaner phases of the life of great men, which he characterized as being often "gossip" stained and erroneous.

Dr. William Thomas Shepherd, president of the school, presided. Short addresses were made by Louis C. Fernandez and William A. Simpson, students of the university.

John R. Mahoney Tells What Emancipator Prophesied to Him in 1864.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE
HAS ENFORCEMENT FETE

Andrews, Bishop Freeman, Dr.
Lewis and Rear Admiral
Billard Other Speakers.

Lincoln saw that the liquor fight would follow the slavery contest, according to John R. Mahoney, at the Citizens' committee's celebration of the emancipator's 117th anniversary with a law enforcement and observance dinner at City club last night.

Mr. Mahoney, 78 years old, a member of the oldest temperance society in the country, the Order of Rechabites, organized in 1849, met Lincoln in 1864 and told him of the society's aim, elimination of the saloon. Lincoln put Mahoney's head and told him to stick to his pledge. "Then," said Mr. Mahoney, to the 400 diners, "Lincoln added the next great question for decision in our country will be the liquor question."

Speech by Andrews.
Brig. Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, read his speech, announcing that government must maintain respect for its laws, but he did not follow his prepared address in its entirety, neglecting to mention that "Beating the law is almost a national sport in America."

Later, after stating that citizens can help law enforcement by developing a public opinion which will popularize it, he omitted to add "so the hostess need no longer feel apologetic for not serving cocktails."

The Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Episcopal bishop of Washington, holding Lincoln's Bible in his hand, reaffirmed the official stand of the Episcopal Church for law observance.

Youth today is as good as it ever was, according to William Mather Lewis, president of George Washington university, "and we are facing an adult problem, not one of youth," he said.

President Coolidge's message, read by Representative J. W. Summers, stated that "Lincoln was the hope of our country."

Cited Immigration Question.
Assistant Secretary of Labor W. W. Hubbard expressed belief that the liquor problem might be solved in time as was the immigration question and Rear Admiral Frederick C. Billard, coast guard commandant, said that liquor smuggling on the north Atlantic seaboard had been cut down to a fifth of what it was. Andrew Wilson suggested that ships with liquor on board be dealt with under piracy laws as vessels such as formerly carried slaves.

Among other speakers were Col. H. Livingston, toastmaster; Mrs. Emma S. Shelton, William Tyler Page, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, Mrs. Cabot Stevens, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture R. W. Dunlap, Assistant Attorney General John Marshall, Representative A. W. Barkley, of Kentucky; Dr. Frank Ballou, Gratz Dunkum, Dr. Thomas A. Groover and John B. Lerner. Letters from Senator W. James, of Washington, and Mrs. John D. Sherman, were read, and Secretary of War Davis, Secretary of the Navy Willoughby and Secretary of State Kellogg announced.

Mrs. Wayne B. Wheeler sang a song, dedicated to her, called "The Call to the Colors." She was accompanied by Mrs. Chester W. Adair at the piano. The Rev. Earle Willey pronounced the invocation. The American's Creed was read and "America" sung at the close of the celebration.

Adopted amendment by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, directing Treasury Department to furnish all taxpayers with complete information of charges against them and names of accusers. Reduced from four to two years the time within which government must make its tax reassessments.

Statement by Senator Dill of Washington, why America entered world war led to a spirited debate.

Continued consideration of War Department bill.

Official information as to whether high army officers are using government automobiles and chauffeurs for "social use and from parties" was asked on the floor by Mr. Connolly, of Texas.

Brig. Gen. Campbell King told the military committee that if the general staff "can't be trusted to advance the interests of the air service properly the country is in a very serious situation."

Chairman Parker, of the commerce committee, announced it is the intention of that committee to report a bill to carry out recommendations for coal legislation by President Coolidge in his message to Congress.

Labor committee agreed to have hearings on a bill to prohibit interstate commerce on certain goods manufactured by convicts.

BIG PRICES REALIZED
AT LEVERHULME SALE

More Than $500,000 Is Paid
So Far; Total May Go Up to $4,000,000.

New York, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—Rivalry between American and English bidders for the art treasures of the late Lord Leverhulme has been so keen that, although the sale of the collection has been in progress only since Tuesday, the returns so far total more than $500,000. Only a small part of the collection has been sold.

Those in charge of the sale and art experts said that if the bidding continues on the present scale the collection probably would bring twice its previously estimated value of $2,000,000. Today's sales amounted to more than $100,000.

One outstanding purchase today was that of a Tudor cypress and hickory marriage chest by the Boston museum of fine arts for $35,000. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller of Massachusetts bought a pair of William and Mary chairs for $11,000. A local firm bought a square Charles I. lacquer cabinet, on a carved and gilt stand, for $25,000.

SETTLING OF COAL STRIKE THEIR VICTORY, SAY MINERS

signed today. The American people are entitled to know this solemn conviction of mine and to honor this great President of ours who has shortened the strike by his wisdom."

Mr. Grant quietly began his work of bringing about a settlement last Wednesday when he saw Maj. W. W. Inglis, chairman of the anthracite operators negotiating committee, in Scranton. Whether it was the "psychological moment" to act or whether the operators were ready for a settlement is not revealed, but after setting Maj. Inglis and other operators in a receptive mood to consider concessions, he got in touch with President Lewis in Wilkes-Barre, late on Tuesday.

The leaders of the miners, who had known Mr. Grant for years, and trusted his showed willingness to reopen negotiations, and Wednesday found the Cleveland man in Philadelphia with the operators.

Things Move Quickly.
From then on things began to move rapidly, including the miners' headquarters from Wilkes-Barre to Philadelphia. Newspaper men who had the scene were not to be shaken off and yesterday morning the Associated Press was able to make known with accuracy that another effort to end the strike was being made, despite denials from both sides.

The operators were camped in the Ritz-Carlton hotel, while across the way the miners were locked in a room in the Bellevue-Stratford. Between the two Mr. Grant took an occasional journey.

Last night it became known to certain observers that the end was near and the prediction followed that a strike settlement probably would be reached today.

New Era, Says Lewis.
Mr. Lewis said the settlement was "satisfactory and constructive."

"It does not contain the principle of arbitration for which the operators have been contending," he added, "but it does provide machinery for the exercise of reason in the industry."

"It is the dawn of a new era in the anthracite industry and both operators and miners should make the most of the opportunity which is given them."

High praise was given to Gov. Pinchot by Mr. Lewis for his "high courage and unselfish devotion to public interest" in trying to end the strike. He also complimented the Federal conciliation agents under the direction of Secretary of Labor Davis for their "marked service in the controversy."

Mr. Lewis later said that Federal representatives were always in touch with the situation and used tact in their methods of procedure.

Text of Agreement.
The text of the agreement is as follows: "This agreement, made this eleventh day of February, 1926, between Districts 1, 7 and 9, United Mine Workers of America, parties of the first part, and the anthracite operators, parties of the second part, covering wages and conditions of employment in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania, witnesses:

"1. Work shall be resumed at once under the terms of the expired contract, which, subject to modification as hereinafter provided, shall be in force and effect until August 31, 1926.

"2. At any time after January 1, 1927, but not oftener than once board, is expected to be favorably reported to the Senate and the House in the near future and to be passed soon after the revenue bill is out of the way.

There is an undercurrent of apprehension in railroad quarters because of this legislation in that the existing railway labor board has before it demands for increased wages running far into the millions. However, it is understood that the White House has been confidentially advised these demands will not be allowed to become acute until the new law is in effect.

Should the railroad plan work as expected, it is believed a concerted appeal will be made to have it apply to other industries. The plan was worked out at conferences which lasted months and was participated in by the chiefs of all of the railroad brotherhoods and presidents of several of the largest railway systems of the country. It represented their clear and impartial judgment as the only means to peace in the industry of great transportation systems and it is in no way a political proposal.

Triumph for Collective Bargaining, Green Says

(By Associated Press.)
William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, commenting on the strike settlement, declared the agreement entered into "represents a triumph for collective bargaining, and he expressed the hope that 'the industrial peace which will be established in the anthracite coal regions as the result of the settlement' will prove to be 'permanent, constructive and of great benefit to all concerned.'"

Mr. Green said the settlement would "prove to be more satisfactory than reluctant compliance with the decision of some compulsory arbitration tribunal," and recalled that organized labor had "contributed many thousands of dollars for food, clothing and shelter to the striking miners and dependent families."

Settlement Aids Labor Legislation, Leaders Say

Settlement of the coal strike opens the way for calm consideration of Congress of legislation aiding against future emergencies.

THE President and Mrs. Coolidge will be guests of honor at a dinner to be given in the Willard hotel at the night of Tuesday, February 23, by the Attorney General and Mrs. Sargent. The dinner will be one of the largest of the cabinet dinners given so far this season, as there will be more than 70 guests present.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge will be the guests of honor at dinner of the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Wilbur Tuesday evening, March 2.

A naval home wedding was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at 2019 Massachusetts avenue, when Miss Janet Moffett, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. William A. Moffett, was married to Ensign Elliott McFarlan Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McFarlan Moore, of East Orange, N. J. The service was performed by Capt. Sydney K. Evans, U. S. N., senior chaplain at the United States Naval Academy. The house was decorated throughout with smilax, spring flowers and Easter lilies. The marriage took place in the drawing room where the bay window was banked with palms and Australian ferns. The mantles were decorated with pink roses and Easter lilies.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of creamy white satin, made on straight lines but slightly fitted and very long. There was a small V in the effect of princess lace, nine inches deep at the hem of the skirt, both in back and in front. On the waist there was a yoke of the same princess lace. The sleeves were long and fitted with lace cuffs. She had a train of flesh crepe finished with small clusters of orange blossoms at the end of the rounded train. The veil was of tulle caught at the back and sides of the head with the dainty orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Betty Moffett, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of pale blue taffeta, the skirt very bouffant and scalloped at the hemline. On the bodice there was an applied bertha with scalloped streamers of narrow blue ribbon falling from the shoulders and tied at the wrists. She had blue satin slippers and stockings to match the gown. Her old-fashioned bouquet was of sweetheart roses and forget-me-nots. Little Miss Beverly Moffett was ribbon bearer. She had a frock similar to that of the maid of honor but made of flesh-colored crepe. Master Charles Moffett, also a ribbon bearer, was in navy blue with a white collar and tie.

Ensign Moore had as best man his brother-in-law, Mr. Addison C. Burnham, Jr., of Newton Center, Mass., and the ushers were Midshipman George Moffett, U. S. N., and Mr. William A. Moffett, Jr. Mrs. Moffett, mother of the bride, was gowned in cloth of gold and silver. Mrs. Moore, mother of the bridegroom, was in a gown of black beaded tulle. Mrs. Addison C. Burnham, Jr., sister of the bridegroom, wore a gown of the period style of pink taffeta and black tulle, bouffant skirt and fitted bodice.

Reception Follows Ceremony.

Many additional guests attended the reception, which followed immediately after the ceremony. The table in the dining room was decorated with tall silver vases filled with pink roses and Easter lilies.

The wedding was attended by a brilliant list of guests with virtually the entire navy set in Washington present. Among the guests were the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur, Senator and Mrs. William M. Butler, the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, Rear Admiral and Mrs. William N. Phelps, the Interstate Commerce Commissioner and Mrs. Frederick I. Cox, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Charles B. McVay, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. John A. Lejeune, Capt. and Mrs. Emory S. Land, Mrs. John A. L. Dougherty and Commander and Mrs. Turner.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Moffett, of Charleston, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. James Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Jaffee Eddy and Miss Mary Davidson, all of East Orange, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gott, Mr. and Mrs. Chance Vough and Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Flint.

Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Moore departed for a wedding trip, the latter wearing a gown of tan satin worked in triangles fitted together with dull and

Now Worn on Southern Golf Links,

On the golf links, on hotel verandas, or on the beaches of the Southern watering places, the well-dressed man is wearing a Sports Suit of fine, Irish hand-woven, home-spun cheviot; or perhaps it is of the same fabric manufactured in this country. At any rate, his suit is cheviot and in the lighter mixtures, as Tans, Grays and Heathers.

He may be wearing Flannel Trousers with the heavy stripes of Tan, Brown, Blue or Gray. On the more dressy occasions, plain white or cream is the order of the day. And worn with a sports coat of Cheviot or Camels' Hair.

His Ties may be Four-in-Hands or Bat Wings, but they must be in the new modernistic patterns with red predominating.

On his head is the popular snap-brim Hat, or the suggested roll-edge. The Derby Hat is coming more and more into favor for semi-formal occasions and to lend dignity to the street or business wardrobe.

BUSINESS MAN'S PLACE IN CHURCH OUTLINED

Kensington Pastor Shows How Christ Used Best Methods for Christianity.

INSPIRATION IS NEEDED

By the REV. ROBERT ATKINSON, Kensington.

It may be a novel idea for some people, but it is none the less true that Jesus of Nazareth for some years was what we call a "business man." He chose business men, carpenters and builders, undertook contracts, made estimates and ran a business of some size. Especially was he noted for his skill as a "yoke-maker" and a foundation layer. When he became the great teacher and healer and gathered a group of followers he did not select them from among the ecclesiastics of his day. He chose business men, prosperous boat and gear owners, a government official, and so on. Not an ecclesiastic in the circle. And later on when the church got fairly going, and the apostles were tangled up in administrative details they asked for and got a board of seven business men to run the financial end while they gave themselves to preaching and prayer.

The need for this arrangement is as deep now as it was then. First and foremost the church must present the Evangel, but back of that and indispensable to it are the powers, abilities and administrative genius of business men. The church is, if you will, a light house. It sends the beam of grace and truth across the stormy seas of life and death, but to the end that the light shall shine something must be planned and built and work and watch. Happy is that minister and fortunate that church that has business men who see that this is done. There is no talent waste in running a business but can be used in and for the church.

"There are," as Paul, with his canny common sense puts it, "diversities of operations, but the same Spirit." The preacher is not the only minister. The business man giving time and thought to the church and its work is a minister, too, and as much entitled to "rev-erence" in front of his name as the other, though why any title necessary at all is a problem. A great artist or musician may paint or compose in a measure for the market, but his highest satisfaction lies in his accomplishing something fine and beautiful which men of a later day will enjoy. A business man can not hope for material returns upon his work as a churchman, but he can be certain he is building up a city of God, a fabric of things honest, just, pure and lovely that will endure when the builders have long passed on.

We must say a little on what the church has for its business men. The average business man today is, with some exceptions, little interested in our dogmatic disputes and ecclesiastical jarrings. What he wants and is entitled to look for from the church, and especially its ministry, is a vision and an inspiration that will enable him to go into the arena of life and encounter the materialistic, the selfish, the carnal and come off the victor and keep his conscience clear. The church that is doing this for business men will never want for a congregation. Seventy years ago Robertson, of Trinity church, was carrying on his wonderful ministry in Brighton, England. One of his parishioners kept the portrait of Robertson over his desk and he would look for a temptation to anything that would sully his honor a look at that portrait was sufficient. Let the church today so order its ministry that business men will get and keep the vision of Jesus Christ and they will be satisfied. "They will endure as seeing Him who is invisible."

Monument Elevator Work Will Be Rushed

Fearing that it may be necessary to keep the Washington Monument closed on George Washington's birthday, Maj. U. S. Grant 3d, director of public buildings and grounds, will hasten as much as possible the installation of the new elevator that the shaft may be open to visitors on February 22.

Since it became the practice to open the Monument on Sundays and holidays it has never been known to be closed on the birthday of "The Father of His Country." But, as it would be dangerous to allow visitors to enter the structure while the shaft is under construction, it must remain closed until the work is virtually finished. It is probable that sufficient progress will not have been made by the birthday.

FUNERAL OF DR. PIPER PROBABLY ON MONDAY

Greatest Authority in World on Grasses; Consulted on Golf Greens.

HONORED BY CONGRESS

Arrangements for the funeral of Dr. Charles V. Piper, who died of paralysis following uremic poisoning in Emergency hospital Thursday, will be completed today upon the arrival of his brother, Stanley Piper, of Denver. It is probable the services will be held Monday afternoon at Wright's undertaking parlors, after which the remains will be cremated and eventually conveyed to Seattle, Wash., where the family lives.

Born in Victoria, B. C., 58 years ago, Dr. Piper passed his early days in the great Northwest and from 1893 to 1902 he spent his vacations in following the trail of the Lewis & Clark expedition, checking up the journal of the expedition, with respect to camp sites, mountain passes and other data, his work finally reaching congressional recognition.

He graduated from the University of the State of Washington and obtained his master's degree at Harvard. In 1903, he became associated with the Department of Agriculture as a biologist. During his service there he became recognized as the greatest authority in the world on grasses.

During the last four years Dr. Piper occupied the position of chairman of the green section of the United States Golf association and traveled all over the United States, giving advice to green-keepers on the maintenance of golf courses. He was the discoverer of a species of bent grass known as the Washington strain and through experimental gardens of the Department of Agriculture was able to disseminate the species throughout the country.

Dr. Piper was a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the Washington Academy of Sciences, former president of the Botanical Society of Washington, a member of the Biological society, the American Society for the Advancement of Agricultural Science and the American Society of Agronomy.

Dr. Piper leaves a wife, and resided at 1499 Irving street.

INSANITARY SCHOOLS REPORTED BY FOWLER

Health Officer Says Board Is Hampered by Insufficient Funds.

Dr. William C. Fowler, District health officer yesterday said it was a regrettable fact that certain of Washington's public schools are in an insanitary condition.

"Just a short time ago," he said, "I reported unsatisfactory conditions at the schools to the committee last night. I think the school authorities are doing the best they can to remedy these conditions. They are hampered by lack of money."

Commissioner Cuno H. Rudolph expressed disapproval of the suggestion, attributed to Superintendent of Schools Frank W. Ballou, that the board of education submit its budget directly to Congress, without interposition of the commissioners and the bureau of the budget.

"That would involve changing our whole scheme of taxation," he said.

T. L. LIPSETT, RAILROAD OFFICIAL; FOUND DEAD

Division Passenger Agent of Pennsylvania Succumbs in Hotel Room.

ARRANGED WILSON TOUR

Funeral arrangements for Thomas L. Lipsett, division passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, who was found dead yesterday in his suite at the Shoreham hotel, had not been completed last night.

Mr. Lipsett, who was 60 years old, was one of the best known railroad officials in the country. Despite his age, he continued to take an active part in affairs of the Pennsylvania railroad, and had achieved a reputation for efficiency and thoroughness. Death was due to acute dilation of the heart, following a severe attack of grip, according to Dr. E. C. Bingham.

Born in Philadelphia, Mr. Lipsett entered the service of the railroad as a messenger in that city, in 1885. He first came to Washington as traveling passenger agent in 1909, and was made division passenger agent in 1920. Many famous special tours were piloted by him, including the Celebrated "swing around the circle" of the late President Wilson, which resulted in the chief executive's breakdown, while he was campaigning for the League of Nations.

Mr. Lipsett has no near relatives in this city, according to railroad officials. He has a distant kin in Philadelphia, however, and authorities expect to hear from them shortly concerning the final disposition of the body which is at Gawler's undertaking establishment.

DISTRICT HEADS ASK YEAR FOR RENEWAL OF DRIVER PERMITS

Letter to Senator Capper Says
100,000 Could Not Be Reissued in One Month.

CAPPER SCHOOL BOARD
MEASURE IS OPPOSED

New M Street Bridge Plan
Sent to Budget Bureau;
Crossing Change Urged.

The District commissioners yesterday sent a communication to Congress asking early adoption of a traffic act amendment to give the director of traffic another year in which to prepare for annual issuance of automobile operators' permits.

Under the terms of the present act, all existing drivers' permits are to expire March 31, this year. The amendment, if adopted, will extend the time to March 31, 1927. The commissioners say it is impossible to renew the permits, which number in excess of 100,000, within the time required by the present law. Their letter, which is addressed to Senator Arthur Capper, chairman of the Senate District committee, says:

"It is a practical impossibility to carry out the provisions of this law within the short time which will elapse between now and March 31 of this year. There are pending before Congress bills containing provision to spread the time for renewals of these permits over an entire year instead of as one period. Such amendment will enable the work to be done in an orderly manner. The office of the director of traffic has neither the employees nor office facilities which would be necessary to take action regarding renewal of permits in any one month."

Oppose School Bill.

The commissioners also reported to Congress recommending against enactment of the Capper bill for an elected board of education. Several days ago the commissioners took similar action respecting the Gasque bill to accomplish the same purpose.

Recommendation of the pending bill to authorize construction of a new bridge over Rock Creek to replace the M street structure was voted and transmitted to the bureau of the budget.

Abolition of three grade crossings will be sought in a new bill the commissioners ordered prepared. They are at Chestnut avenue, in Takoma Park, where a fatal accident occurred this week. Varum street and Quarles street. Measures are now pending for elimination of similar crossings at Lamont station and Michigan avenue, in Brookland.

Kubinyi to Get Jury Trial Next Thursday

Victor de Kubinyi, artist, whose 44 original paintings of human emotions were seized for debt, will be given a jury trial Thursday in circuit court before Justice William Hitz to determine the status of his work. Miss C. Larimore Kealey sued Kubinyi for $1,000 for legal services and the pictures were attached.

Kubinyi filed a motion to quash the attachment on the ground that the pictures were his implements and could not be seized under the code. This motion raised an issue of fact which the jury will have to decide.

Receivership Case Continued.

The receivership proceedings involving Herald Harbor, Inc., were continued yesterday by Chief Justice McCoy in equity court pending an audit of the books of this concern. A stipulation to that effect was signed by attorneys for Herald Harbor, Inc., and C. A. Eddy, a stockholder, who filed the petition for the receiver.

The Fond Mother Guards Her Daughter's Health

Mrs. D. Zimmerman

Lebanon, Pa.—"When I was a girl growing into womanhood, through overwork I got all run-down. I was backward in development and got very weak and nervous. My mother gave me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it built me right up in health and I came into womanhood in a very natural way, and have never had any more trouble along these lines. 'Favorite Prescription' is the best medicine that can be taken by girls nearing womanhood."—Mrs. D. Zimmerman, 228 So. 11th St.

Why not get this Prescription for your daughter? Every druggist has it in both fluid and tablet form. Write Dr. Pierce, President of the Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., if additional medical advice is required.—Adv.

PENN STATE VICTOR OVER GEORGETOWN FIVE, 30-19

Hatchet Five Beats Duke, 42-32

Long Shots by Wallace and Wheeler Count in Victory.

G. W. Quintet Barely Obtains Lead in First Half.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S long-shot duo, consisting of Wallace and Wheeler, got down to business in the second half last night and turned what had been a nip-and-tuck battle into a romp for the Hatchettes over the Duke university passers in the downtown gymnasium. The final score was 42 to 32.

The Durham, N. C., quintet, which came here with a record of court bruises, was considered soft plying for George Washington before the game. After the score had been deadlocked five times during the first half and the Hatchettes could muster but an 18 to 16 lead at the end of the session, the Duke had made their little impression.

At the start of the second half the teams matched basket for basket, the count being tied at 18, 20, 22 and 24 in the first three minutes of play. Here Wallace and Wheeler started their little act, which sent the Hatchettes into a 10-point lead, which they maintained to the end of the game.

In the course of the entertainment Wallace contributed 8 field goals with his mate in crime Wheeler, scoring 7 times from scrimmage. Kendall also lent a helping hand with a trio of two-pointers.

Duke exhibited a pair of "eagle-eyed" bantam passers in Bullock and Butler, who accounted for 22 of their team's points. Hartness was the center of the Duke passing game.

A peculiarity of the contest was the fact that Duke did not commit a foul. George Washington was guilty on eleven occasions, which Duke used for the production of 4 points.

C. flyer's right leg has responded to treatment and he will attempt to win his twelfth consecutive dash event of the season in a test over the 100-yard route against Louis Clarke, of Newark; de Hart Hubbard, of Cincinnati; Frank Hussey, of New York; R. H. Bartholomew, of Penn State; Cyril Coaffee, of the Illinois A. C.; Alf Lacony, former Lafayette star, and Chet Bowman, former Syracuse athlete.

D. C. RUNNERS IN 2 MEETS TONIGHT

College and School Entries in N. Y. and Richmond Games.

LOCAL representation in the University of Richmond meet at the Virginia capital tonight will be left to Maryland in the collegiate events and to Tech and Devitt Prep among the scholastics. Eastern high's contemplated trip of its relay team by auto was called off on account of the recent snows, no funds being available for railroad fare.

While its relay team will be competing in the Wilco games at New York, Maryland should not suffer for lack of front at Richmond. In the latter group will be Charles Pugh, in the 50-yard dash; Roger Whiteford, in the 50-yard low hurdles; Blondy Blantz, Paul Doerr and Carlton Neuman, in the half mile; Don Fahey, in the high jump, and John Gadd, Fred Middleton, Bob Hill and Neuman in the mile.

WITH Coach Curley Byrd in New York, Assistant Coach Geary Epple will be in charge of the Richmond contingent.

Coach "Hap" Hardell of Tech will escort a squad of five to the Virginia meet with its most important assignment the defenders of the south Atlantic high school relay championship won at Richmond last year.

Conners, Blackstone, Wilson and Robert Pugh will comprise the Tech relay team, while Quinn, Pugh, Blackstone and Conners will compete in the 50-yard dash. Devitt Prep's relay team, coached by Jimmy Connelly, nationally known miler, will show its wares in the prep school event, which will constitute Devitt's lone activity. The team will include Clark, Zackowitz, O'Keefe and Capt. Ashley, with Hopper on hand for the substitute role.

C. U. MITTMEN ENTERTAIN GENERALS

W. Virginia and Duke Cagers in College Games Here.

THE spotlight of attention will focus on Catholic university tonight with its double sports program, consisting of a basketball game and a boxing meet for the consumption of collegiate fans. The Maroon and Black basketballers will engage West Virginia, while Washington and Lee's boxing team will furnish opposition to the local glove wielders. The court encounter will start at 7:30 o'clock, with the boxing following immediately after the game.

Maryland's crack basketball team also will be in action tonight, entertaining the Duke university quintet on the College Park court at 8 o'clock.

The boxing meet is expected to furnish the big "kick" to the fans out at C. U. tonight, for Coach Rice's dribblers should be able to win handily over the Mountaineers.

THE Generals are reputed to have a strong, well-balanced boxing team and some close and interesting bouts are expected.

Last year the Brookland boxers lost a meet to Washington and Lee, four bouts to three, and hope to decisively assert their superiority to the Southerners in tonight's meet.

There will be seven bouts in all on the program, each class from the tournament to the unlimited being represented. All bouts will be of three rounds each, except when it is necessary in the opinion of the judges to send the bout one extra round to arrive at a decision on the winner.

Ignoring Landis' Case Disappoints Comiskey
Chicago, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—President Charles A. Comiskey, of the White Sox, was disappointed today in the failure of the American league club owners to follow the example of the National league in endorsing the administration of Commissioner Landis.

"If Landis is lost to baseball, the American public will want to know why an honest man can not remain in the national game," Comiskey said.

1-Mile Skating Record Broken by Thunberg

Lake Placid, N. Y., Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—Clas Thunberg, Olympic skating champion of Finland, in a mile race today on Mirror rink against Charles Jewtraw, Lake Placid flash, established a new world's record, skating the distance in 2:38.1-5. Jewtraw, losing the mile, won the 220-yard dash, however, and at the end of the first day's competition between the two stars honors were even.

Thunberg's performance in the mile eclipsed the best modern record made by "Duke" Donovan, of Endicott, of 2:42.2-5. The old-time record, established in 1895, by John S. Johnson, of Montreal, was 2:42.2-5.

BILL TILDEN IS GIVEN A SCARE

Veteran Wins One Set, Deuces Another at Casino.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (By A. P.).—William T. Tilden, the national champion, had an exciting battle to escape defeat at the hands of an infrequent entrant in tournament competition in the opening day's play of the Heights Casino men's invitation net fixture.

Erratic stroking cost the champion the first set of a match with the West Side club veteran, W. J. Gallon. Serving a terrific first ball and carrying his fight to the net, Gallon took the first five games and the opening set, 6-2.

He then matched service game for service game with Tilden in the second before the latter finally broke through to win, 8-6, but the champion hit his stride as Gallon tired in the final, clinching the match with a 6-1 victory. Tilden then moved on to the semifinal round with a decisive triumph over Dean Mathey, of Cranford, N. J., 6-3, 6-0.

VINCENT RICHARDS and Francis T. Hunter also reached the semifinals, but the former was unexpectedly extended by the Danish Davis cup player, Erik Worms, who arrived unannounced in this country several days ago with Maurice Ferrier, the Swiss champion.

Worms, a tall, hard-hitting player with a fast service, opened his fight against Richards by winning four of the first five games, but finally lost out, 6-4, 6-4. Ferrier was even more impressive than Worms, the Swiss player creating an upset by defeating Fred Anderson, runner up to Jean Borotra, of France, last year for the indoor championship, 6-2, 6-1, thus earning the right to meet Manuel Alonso, of Spain, tomorrow. The victor will then face Richards in the semifinals, while Tilden will meet Hunter, who triumphed over Percy Kynaston.

OLD LINE FIVE WINS FROM W. VA.

Maryland Basketekers Triumph, 25-15, in Rough Game.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY dropped its second game of the week on its invasion of Washington and vicinity when the University of Maryland tossers last night handed it a 25-to-15 trouncing at College Park. It was a rough-and-ready battle, with two of the Mountaineers banished via the personal foul route.

The visitors were first to break the ice, Ashworth caging a "snow bird" fifteen seconds after the first tap-off. A few minutes later the Old Liners knotted the count and then stepped out with an 8-point rally, leading, 14 to 9, at the half.

WHEN play was resumed, Lepera caged a double-decker which pulled his team right up on the Marylanders' heels. The latter then stepped on the gas again and always enjoyed a safe lead until the bark of the gun which ended hostilities. This victory was Maryland's eleventh in thirteen starts.

Faber led the home team in scoring, with Supplee pressing him for honors, while Beatty did some great defensive work. Ashworth and Lepera starred in all departments for the Mountaineers, who end their trip here tonight when they tackle Catholic university.

The agreement signed by "Pa" Stribling, for his son, and Billy Gibson, for Tunney, call for the bout to be held in Miami.

ED HUFFMAN BEATEN BY SHARKEY

Californian Absorbs Bad Beating at Garden.

Special to The Washington Post.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Jack Sharkey, of Boston, 1904 pounds, got the decision over Eddie Huffman, of California, 174 pounds, at the end of ten rounds in the main event in the new Garden tonight. It was an uneven match and there were times when it looked as though Sharkey was carrying his much lighter opponent.

The advantage of more than 16 pounds proved too much for Huffman to overcome, although he made a game showing. In the sixth round Huffman sent Sharkey reeling with a right-hand chop to the chin, but Eddie paid dearly for his temerity, for Jack nearly knocked his head off with a series of right and left uppercuts immediately following.

Huffman took quite a beating whenever Sharkey decided to cut loose, and the boys then scented the idea that Jack was pulling some of his punches and the crowd razed Sharkey.

Huffman fought the best he knew, and whether Sharkey was kind to him or not he went pegging along. Huffman brushed away a cut over the right eye in the seventh, as of no consequence and kept up his gallant stand right to the finish. The referee was Eddie Purdy, and 8,000 persons turned out to see the boys go through their paces.

Joe Dundee, of Baltimore earned the decision over Jimmy Jones, Youngstown, Ohio, welterweight, in the 10-round semifinal. It was a fast bout and pleased the fans.

Chris Dunphy Loses In Palm Beach Finals

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 12.—Emery P. Stratton, 21, of Boston, competing for the first time in Palm Beach tournaments, today won the South Florida golf championship by defeating Chris J. Dunphy, of Washington, veteran of scores of final matches here. The former Williams college star scored in handy style over the 36-hole route, his margin being 8 up and 7 to play. Dunphy won the event in 1924 and 1925.

Stratton, who last summer tied Dexter Cummings, defending titleholder, for the medal in the intercollegiate championship, played brilliantly on the morning, scoring a 33 with the aid of three 3's in succession on long holes.

The Boston boy's approaches were flawless. Dunphy, on the other hand, was overcautious and was usually short on both his approaches and putts.

Open Commercialism Is Exposed in Tennis Tourney.

Privilege Now Open; Wills and Lenglen Win in Matches.

By A. P.—Commercialism, open and unashamed, was brought out today in connection with the tennis tournament at the Carlton club, in which Mlle. Lenglen and Miss Helen Wills are expected to meet as finalists in the women's singles.

The newspaper men, photographers and tennis officials were called together by the organizers of the tournament to be informed that the motion picture rights granted exclusively to an American firm had been rescinded and that all camera men would be allowed to take pictures, provided they paid a certain price.

P. M. B. Fisher, the New Zealand tennis player, who presided at the meeting, informed the camera men that in behalf of William Blumenthal, of New York, and Capt. Ben Higgs, of London, concessionaires of the exclusive cinema rights, he was authorized to say they had abandoned the exclusive rights.

He added that in behalf of Thomas and Albert Burke, lessees of the Carlton courts, he requested the motion picture men to get together and make a concerted bid for the filming privileges. There was to be no exclusion, but the film companies were to collaborate and offer a remunerative price for permission to take the pictures.

A prepared typewritten statement, which later was handed to the newspapermen, was read by Mr. Fisher in the name of Messrs. Burke.

"An offer for the cinema rights has been submitted to us," it said. "We have not yet accepted it. In order to disarm all criticism and meet the wishes of those who had expressed disappointment, we are prepared to make the following offer: You can all bid, either individually or collectively, or you can all join together and make a high bid if you wish."

"I have here an envelope containing the price of the offer made us, and if the concerted offer is larger we are prepared to give the excess amount to the French Lawn Tennis association for the advancement of tennis in France."

All the American motion picture men, representing four big news reel concerns in the United States, refused to make a bid. The matter was left in abeyance with the original offer inclosed in a sealed envelope, and the prospective bidders refusing to make offers.

AS matters stood this evening, there will be no films taken of the Lenglen-Dunphy match.

FISCAL RELATIONS STUDY IS PROPOSED IN ZIHLMAN'S BILL

Joint Committee of Six Is Suggested to Settle the District Problem.

MADDERN IS EXPECTED TO OPPOSE ANY CHANGE

Local Budget to Come Up on Monday; Commissioners Favor the Plan.

A joint congressional committee would study the question of fiscal relations between the Federal and District governments in order that a definite arrangement could be determined under the provisions of a resolution introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Zihlman, chairman of the House District committee.

Settling of this matter once and for all is one of the most important matters now affecting the District, in Mr. Zihlman's opinion.

His resolution would provide for a committee of three senators and three members of the House who would report after an investigation on whether the 60-40 ratio should be maintained or a lump sum figure set; in the case of the latter, the amount to be fixed.

Madden Favors Lump Sum.

Just what attitude Chairman Madden of the House appropriations committee will take toward the proposal is not known, as he has been confined to his home with illness for several days. He has expressed his conviction, however, that a lump sum would be given by Congress this year and that the figure would be $3,000,000 as provided in the bill of Representative Cramton, of Michigan. He indicated that he would report upon any independent study to determine the fiscal relationship, saying his committee did that.

District fiscal matters will be the order at the Capitol Monday when hearings on the District budget are begun.

The commissioners expressed pleasure at introduction of the resolution.

Guardian for Sisters Fights Kuhblank Will

James Conlon, an attorney, who is guardian-at-law for Maria Reinecke and Anna Schlotthauer, inmates of an insane asylum at Byberry, Pa., and sisters of the late Mrs. Freda Kuhblank, of this city, filed a caveat yesterday in probate court protesting against the admission of the will of Mrs. Kuhblank, which disposes of an estate valued at $20,000.

According to Mr. Conlon, the sister, Maria, was left only $250 and the sister, Anna, only $1,000, while the balance of the estate was devised to persons and institutions who could not take a share if there had been no will. The fact that two sisters of Mrs. Kuhblank are insane would suggest, Conlon states, that Mrs. Kuhblank herself was incapable of executing a valid will. The estate includes the premises at 1320 Belmont street northwest.

WOMAN HANGS SELF WITH SCARF IN ROOM

Sarah Beall, Federal Clerk, in Ill Health and Worried, Ends Life.

Miss Sarah Beall, 40 years old, 1726 M street northwest, was found dead yesterday morning hanging by a scarf tied tightly about her neck from an electric fan fixture in her bedroom. Coroner J. Ramsey Nevitt issued a certificate of death by suicide.

The body, clad in a nightgown, was discovered about 10 o'clock by Marion Hunt, a colored maid, of 1510 M street northwest, who had arrived to clean the apartment. Dr. George W. Alexander, who lives in an apartment at the same address, and who was summoned by the maid, cut the body down and pronounced the woman dead. Miss Beall had been dead about an hour.

According to police, Miss Beall had been in ill health for some time and had worried considerably of late over financial difficulties. She left a letter, addressed to Ralph Beall, of Kansas City, believed to be her brother. She had been employed in the coast and geodetic survey as a clerk. She had been living at the M street address for about twelve years. She had no relatives here, according to police, but was a member of a prominent New England family.

Suit Filed for Canvas In National Gallery

A deputy marshal took possession of the painting. Dr. Holmes said he has no knowledge of the matter. The painting, it was said, was accepted by official from a third person. While declining to comment specifically, officials of the gallery admitted it was a "good picture." They believe, however, that Mrs. Berryman places too high an estimate on its value.

GERMAN LOSES PATENT SUIT

Justice McCoy Dismisses Inhoff Bill
Against Chemical Foundation.

The Chemical Foundation, Inc., will not have to contest the suit brought by Herr Karl Inhoff, city engineer of Essen, Germany, who sued the alien property custodian to recover five patents pertaining to city sewerage systems.

Chief Justice McCoy yesterday in equity court dismissed Inhoff's bill in so far as the Chemical Foundation is concerned, and overruled the motion to dismiss in so far as the alien property custodian is concerned. The patents, according to Inhoff, were among the lot taken over from the government by the Chemical Foundation.

"MARTHA" IS GIVEN BY OPERA COMPANY IN BRILLIANT STYLE

"Last Rose of Summer" Sung by Miss Mason in the Leading Role.

PAVLOSKA SURPRISES BY BEAUTIFUL SOLOS

Antonio Cortis Is Convincing Lover—"Carmen," "Rigo-letto" to Be Given Today.

The complimentary performance of Von Flotow's opera "Martha," sung in Italian by the Chicago Civic Opera company at the auditorium yesterday afternoon for the benefit of all holding seat coupons from Tuesday's night performance, when "La Tosca" was substituted for the announced "Otello" because of the illness of Charles Marshall, scored another triumph for that organization.

"Martha" was pronounced a particularly happy selection for the complimentary performance because it is a perennial favorite of opera goers with its great memories of Patti, Nilsson, Giesler and Richings, and its bouquet of classic arias, one of which "The Last Rose of Summer" is the best known of all operatic numbers even today. Sparkle, sprightliness and a tender melody characterize the score, and while lacking the tragic undercurrent of some of the heavier operas yet, it has depths, even if not too profound depths, of musical value.

"Last Rose" Exquisitely Sung.

Edith Mason as Lady Harriet, afterwards Martha in the latter scenes, disclosed a dramatic soprano of unusual qualities and an artistic development. Her singing of "The Last Rose of Summer" was a bit of exquisite workmanship. Miss Mason adheres to the vocal doctrine according to the signs of yesterday's performance that beautiful songs are made to be sung beautifully and they are given their full values when she sings them.

In the first act of the opera, which was virtually a trio, she sustained her exacting role with a fidelity to detail and technique which was a delight to witness and to hear. Miss Mason will be heard again tonight in the prima donna role of Rigoletto, and judging from her work yesterday there is a treat in store for her audience.

Irene Pavloska, who had the second feminine role of Nancy, was one of the surprises of the afternoon and scored a hit by her beautiful singing. Her vivacious acting and her display of dramatic temperament presaged a definite future for her as an operatic star. In her solo work and as a member of the quartet singing the famous "Presto, Presto," spinning wheel quartet and in other ensemble numbers of the principals she was always effective.

Applause for Cortes.

Antonio Cortis, the Lionel of yesterday's "Martha," renewed the splendid impression he made on Tuesday night in "La Tosca," and was a convincing young lover, ardent, romantic appearing, and his mellow tenor voice was equal to all demands. In the celebrated solo, "Profuco," song, with Virgilio Lazari as Plunkett, a high mark in the production was struck, and the greatest applause of the afternoon was accorded his singing of an aria in the forest scene.

Roberto Morazzoni as conductor of the opera brought out every orchestral beauty possible, and his rendition of the exquisite overture with its refrains from the various arias of the opera was most satisfactorily done.

Like all the productions of the opera this week, the performance was well mounted and costumed, and although the work of the ensemble is rather light in this particular composition whenever it appeared, it reflected credit on the whole. The drinking song at the opening of the forest scene was realistic and melodious.

Today will be a gala opera day. In the afternoon Mary Garden will sing in "Carmen," one of her greatest roles, and the series will be concluded at night by an elaborate production of "Rigoletto," with Edith Mason as prima donna. E. E. P.

Man Seriously Hurt In Dining Car Fight

Scott, colored, 30 years old, of New York, was seriously injured yesterday in an altercation with Bradford Fischer, colored, 36 years old, also of New York, in a Pennsylvania railroad dining car in the railroad yards at Fourth and T streets northwest.
